One of the Plans Proposed for Financial Relief.

wind is not too strong. Prof. Langley and Mr. Bell have got up a flying machine which they say will fly. It is not a balloon. It is based upon the aeroplane and force. Its force comes from the highest types of gasoline engines, and these engines were developed by those men who have made automobiles that will run over country roads at the rate of eighty or ninety miles an hour.

Prof. Langley says that he guesses that by September he will have perfected his flying machine, by the aid of Mr. Bell, so that he will be able to fly through the air at any kind of weather, at the rate of 100 miles per hour. His experiments will commence in two or three days, and when people sneer at him, he asks how many folks thought, three years ago, that any human being could make a wagon that would run ninety miles an hour over an ordinary road.

CHINESE ARE GONE.

AND CALIFORNIA NEEDS HELP.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the purpose of giving a proper basis for discussion, the details of one of the plans of monetary reform recommended by Senator Aldrich and his Republican colleagues of the Senate Finance Committee at their recent conference at Hot Springs, Va., may be stated with authoritative precision. It may also be said that the plan came to the committee well recommended, and, although Senator Aldrich has declared against it as not an available expedient at this time, he admits that if it could be established and maintained without change, there would be no objection to it. Senator Aldrich of the committee is decidedly more friendly toward the plan than his associates. Representative Cannon, the Speaker to be, is against the plan, and has set his face as hard against it as the fint-like countenance he has turned toward the Aldrich bill of last session.

It will readily be seen, then, that, although the expedient has substantial merit, its chances are not too bright by reason of the lack of support of Senator Aldrich, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and the decided opposition of Mr. Cannon, who has associated himself positively against any form of legislative relief to the finances of the country. The plan seems a simple one. It is proposed to authorize the issuance of additional currency by national banks up to 25 per cent of the amount of their capital. On this the government would place a tax of, say, 5 per cent per annum. Because of this tax, banks would only call for additional currency in times of greatest stringency. That is, interest on loans would have to be higher than 5 per cent to induce a bank to go to the expense of issuing additional currency. The instant interest rates dropped below 5 per cent, this currency would retire automatically.

It will thus be seen that the success or failure of the plan depends upon the fixing of the tax. Those who advocate the plan and have made this a point of special study, say that a per cent should be the rate. When interest is higher than that, the country needs more circulation. When it is less than 5 per cent, a contraction of the circulation would be beneficial. The maximum amount of additional currency that would be available under the plan would be $200,000,000, so that sum is 25 per cent of the aggregate capitalization of the national banks of the country. This sum, it is believed, would meet any emergency that might arise under any financial contingency. The banks availing themselves of this additional circulation would not be required to put up any additional security for the same. The security for these notes, which is considered ample, would be, first: The bank itself; second, the fund created in the Treasury of the United States by the accumulation of the 5-per-cent tax. Besides, the interest paid would be more than ample as an insurance against the failure of any national bank having this additional currency circulation. The government would be assuming no risk, for the tax would be more than enough to support its guarantees.

COLONIA AND CANAL.

MISSION OF SENATOR VELEZ.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reports which stated recently within the past few days regarding the termination of the Colombian Congress's special session, July 26, are not based on correct premises, according to Dr. Thomas Herran, Colombian Chargé d'Affaires here. He says all previous statements to the effect that Congress will go into regular session on that date are incorrect, and that the special session can continue indefinitely, if so desired by the President of the Republic. His announcement may be regarded as one of the results of the visit here of Senator Pedro Velez of Cartagena, who has been in Conference with Dr. Herran daily since Saturday last. He left Washington for New York last night, and will be in conference with a certain person there before sailing to South America.

Cables have mail communication with Bogota, and have been intermittent, and contradictory statements have been transmitted to this country regarding the status of the canal master and the prospective proceeding of Congress. It remains for Senator Velez to correct some of these contradictory reports. This it was possible for him to do by speaking of his own direct and late information. Contrary to previous reports, it transpired that instead of coming here from Europe, Senator Velez in reality came direct from Bogota for the special purpose of going into negotiations in detail with Dr. Herran.

MEN MAY FLY.

WITH LANGLEY'S AND BELL'S AID.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Man may fly before the frosts come in September, according to Prof. S. P. Langley of the Smithsonian Institution, who today started down the Potomac River with his latest design of flying machine to make practical experiments. Prof. Langley's latest and most recent guess is backed up by the expert knowledge of Alexander Graham Bell, who invented telephones, and who has come out of his ease of retirement to help Prof. Langley perfect a practical flying machine. Santos-Dumont's alleged flying machine is a mere balloon, propped through the air when the day.

CHINESE ARE GONE.

AND CALIFORNIA NEEDS HELP.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] W. H. Murray, who represents the California Promotion Committee of San Francisco, arrived here last night on the way to New York and New England in search for laborers.

In conversation this afternoon, Murray said the business of picking and curing fruits was now on in California, and would continue for three months. A large number of unskilled laborers are required to handle this fruit. Speaking of the scarcity of labor in Northern California, Murray said:

The Chinese exclusion act is the cause. There was a time when the Chinese were to California what the negroes are to the South. They were the house help and the orchard help of the State. But it is no longer a case of the Chinese must go—they are practically gone.

"No one is asked to come to California and compete with Chinese and Japanese, and when they leave the farm and orchard owners of California have awakened, not only to the desirability, but to the absolute necessity of depending upon the same class of workers that has made Eastern farmers successful, and none other. From one end of the State to the other, judgment, sentiment and demand are alike universal for competent white help, whose object shall be the acquisition of homes of their own."

STAMPS AND TOBACCO.

WARNING GIVEN TO DEALERS.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—A circular of instructions to internal revenue officers and all others concerned has been issued by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, calling attention to the gross irregularities and violations of law that now exist in the handling and sale of manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes by jobbers, dealers and express companies, as well as for export, separated from packages bearing the stamp denoting the payment of the internal revenue tax. This is said to be a serious violation of the law and regulations which it is the duty of the commissioner to remedy.

Jobbers and dealers are given until November 1, to get their stock on hand in order, after which date all manufactured tobacco, snuff, cigars and cigarettes, separated from the packages for sale not protected by the tax, and so stamp shall be seized and the holders proceeded against in accordance with the law.

RIDDLE FOR RUSSIA.

JEWSH PETITION READY.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—The Jewish petition laid before the President by the Nat'l B'nai B'rith committee has been received here and Secretary Hay has communicated with Mr. Riddle, the American Charge D'Affaires at St. Petersburg, requesting him to forward the petition to the government of Russia, so that it may be presented to the Emperor. The B'nai B'rith committee has been supporting Hon. A. E. Wilson, who is contesting the entire Louisville delegation.

After half an hour of steadily growing excitement, the convention was suddenly adjourned until noon.

At the night session the report of the Committee on Credentials was not voted on, and adjournment was taken until tomorrow. The B'nai B'rith committee was caused by the contest over the Louisville delegation, the Wilson forces developing unexpected strength, and waiting for news of what the committee could do.

Delegates called in necessary for Bradley showing that the effects of the outburst of the afternoon had not been dissipating. The Bradley sentiments suddenly developed and overruled, unsettled the calculations of the politicians.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue Verkes made a speech during the evening, indicating his preference for B'nai B'rith.

CHICAGO ON DOWN GRADE.

Starling Loss of the Windy City as to Lake Tonnage.

BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.

CHICAGO, July 15.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago is losing lake commerce. Other ports, notably Milwaukee, Ludington, Superior and West Superior, are getting it. Government figures from the monthly summary of trade and commerce show that in the starling fashion. Vessel agents agree with the figures. The comparative total of tonnage at the principal lake ports for the first five months of 1903 was as follows:

Jan.-May, Jan.-May.

Port. Milwaukee 2,151,595 2,075,172

Chicago and South Chicago 2,384,323 2,272,407

Ludington 2,162,512 1,894,621

Superior and West Superior 1,864,651 784,589

"Just as sure as Chicago stands still in the matter of river improvements, it is going to show the same natural decline in its tonnage as it has been showing to the benefit of those ports which are improving their harbors and channels," said Capt. Sullivan today. "Large ships are kept out of Chicago by the restricted depth of water, owing mainly to the Washington-street tunnel. The La Salle-street tunnel is also in the way, while center pier bridges are to some extent responsible."

It shows distinctly that the petition is neither a protest nor a remonstrance. It does not seek to interfere in Russian affairs. Finally, it is not a petition by Jews, but in behalf of them. It is a petition by Americans regardless of religious affiliations.

OPIUM IN PHILIPPINES.

Commissioner Tables Both Bills Concerning It and Gov. Taft Champions the Theory of Effective Regulation.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.

MANILA, July 15.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Philippine Commission has tabled both the opium bills. The first provides for the creation of an opium monopoly in the archipelago, and its sale to the highest bidder. The second is a substitute bill, introduced into the commission, making the importation of opium, until now legal for pharmacists, and permitting the disposal of the drug only on a physician's certificate. A special committee was appointed to visit the oriental countries to investigate the regulations regarding the disposal of opium. Afterward, the records will be sent to Washington.

Gov. Taft has courageously championed the theory of regulation, and has demanded that the bill be made as stringent as the English regulations.

PACIFIC SLOPE
SINFUL LOVE LED TO DEATH.

Double Tragedy the Result of an Elopement.

Guilty Couple Died Together in Order to Avoid Arrest.

Street Car Hold-up Near Portland. Lunatic Attacks Nuns. Harts Pays Fine.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] BAKER CITY (Or.) July 15.—A double tragedy occurred three miles west of Durkee in this county today. A. A. Earl of Caldwell, Idaho, killed a young girl known as Blossom, and then committed suicide to avoid arrest by pursuing officers.

Earl, who was a married man about 35 years of age, with a wife and two children, stopped with the girl, who was between 15 and 16 years of age, Tuesday. They came to Huntington early today and walked west on the Oregon Railroad and Navigation track toward this city. Sheriff Watkins of Durkee, who had followed Earl and his companion with a warrant for their arrest, and at Huntington, was seized by Deputy Sheriff Hanna of this county. The officers struck the trail of the man and girl, and overtook them on the railroad track three miles east of Durkee.

When the sloping couple discovered they were being followed, the man left the railroad, and hid in the brush. Shortly afterward the officers heard two shots in quick succession, and found that the man had shot himself and the girl. The girl lived about fifteen minutes. Earl lived three and a half hours.

SIX MASKED MEN. HOLD UP TROLLEY CAR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.] PORTLAND (Or.) July 15.—Six masked highwaymen held up an electric car on the Oregon City line at midnight, shot and painfully wounded Frederick Day, and after taking about $300 in money from the passengers, made their escape.

The robbery occurred at One Hundred and Tenth and Division streets, where the trolley line crosses the Southern Pacific track. Three men boarded the car on the rear and three on the front platform, and rode some distance before they started to rob the car. Five men went through the car, compelling the passengers to give up their money and jewelry, while one masked guard, Frederick Day, who did not produce his valuable, quickly enough to suit the highwaymen, was shot. The bullet entering his abdomen, he is seriously wounded, but will probably recover.

About forty people were on the car, which was bound for Sellwood, a suburb. After the robbery, five of the masked men remained on board and detained and compelled the motorman to run some distance farther at high speed. When they reached the timber two miles from town, he left the car. He was seen an hour later by the police could be notified, and the robbers had time to make good their escape. After leaving the car the guard held up H. O. Nichols, on Mainland, and received $100 reward for the arrest and conviction of the robbers.

MAJ. BORING'S FATE. HYPONOTIZED MAN'S VISION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] SAN JOSE, Calif., July 15.—Dr. Harris, a traveling hypnotist, who in this city has successfully duplicated the feats of A. McIvor-Tyndall, this afternoon put one of his associates into a hypnotic trance, causing him to project an object that he had the body of Maj. S. W. Boring, the Mexican War veteran and ex-Mayor, who has been missing since Sunday night, would be found in deep water beside the old mill at Alviso. He also described a location where he said the bicycle on which the missing man rode away would be found.

The matter will be investigated tomorrow.

NEW SAWTOOTH. OPERATOR'S INVENTION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES] JACOBSON (Wash., July 15.)—[Exclusive Dispatch] Albert E. Brynry, a timber operator in the forests of the Northwest Pacific Redwood Company, has invented a sawtooth that promises to revolutionize lumber and shingle manufacture. The invention is a new kind of sawtooth, called the Planer tooth, that can be applied to any kind of saw, and, it is claimed, will not only save timber, but will plane whatever is sawed as smoothly as though the work were done by a planer. Brynry has been working on the invention for three years, although he has never been connected with the mill. A circular saw of his make was used in the Ballard sawmill this week in cutting shingles. The shingles showed a planed surface equal to those which had been through the planer. The butts were also much smoother than ordinary shingles.

The saving in timber will be material if no adjustment is needed, and the cut is only the width of the saw, which is thinner than the ordinary one. The tool will wax to advantage on upright, circular or band saws. Brynry intends to resign from the railroad and devote his entire time to the introduction of his new sawtooth.

ATTACKED NUMS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.] SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—William H. Selbach, a dentist of Columbus, Ohio, assaulted three nuns wearing the black and white robes of the Dominican order, on Market street, and narrowly escaped serious injury from an incensed mob. He was rescued by the police after he had been badly beaten, and taken to the City Prison. A draft for $10,000, which he was found in his possession, he says came from the rest of his business in the East. He is believed to be demented.

UNBALANCED MENTALLY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.] COLUMBUS (O.) July 15.—Dr. William P. Selbach, for about twenty years was a dentist in this city. He was prominent in secret societies. Some years ago he became unbalanced mentally, and agreed in a number of sensational street episodes, resulting in his being committed to the State hospital. Later he was released, then arrested, and again dismissed. He has been before the Police Court frequently. Recently he left the city, and whereabouts until they heard of his troubles in San Francisco. He acquired quite a fortune during his practice here.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The report that the Mutual Electric Company had been absorbed by the San Francisco Gas and Electric Company is denied by all parties interested. The Mutual Electric Company has just negotiated a loan for $400,000, and is preparing to establish a new and extensive plant.

DAMAGE CAUSED BY A SPARK.

SALINAS, Calif., July 15.—A spark from one of the Pajaro Valley Consolidated Railroad Company's engines set fire yesterday to a barley field of Robert C. Miller, who owns 150 acres of land in the valley. The flames could be checked about eighty acres before barley were burned over. The grain was fully insured. A fire from the same cause a few weeks ago destroyed about a thirty-acre of standing grain in the same field.

FRANCHISE TAXES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The Wells-Fargo Express Company and the Southern Pacific Railroad Company have filed applications with the Board of Supervisors for reduction of assessment on their respective franchises, the applications amounting to about $2,000,000.

In its application for a reduction the express company avers that its franchise has no tangible value; that it is a Colorado corporation, and subject to the laws of that State. The assessment on the franchise is the same as on the equipment, the assessment on the ferryboat system deducted, on the ground that they are part of the entire railroad system.

MISSING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.] SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The dining car of the Southern Pacific Railroad, bound for Los Angeles, exploded this morning while hauling a train of six cars to the ferryboat bound for San Francisco, shortly before 7 o'clock. Engineers Duncan, Fireman Gale and a switchman were killed. All who were in the cab at the time, miraculously escaped with their lives, although they were somewhat bruised and burned by escaping steam. The engine was almost a complete wreck.

Dining Car Bumped the Ties.

REDDING, Calif., July 15.—The dining car of the California express left the rails near Lamont last night and bumped along on the ties for a short distance without any further damage than a delay to traffic of three hours and a half.

Killed by Automobile.

SACRAMENTO, July 15.—Miss Eline Smith, a widow, was run over by an automobile on the transom bridge across the corner of Eleventh and J streets in the Lisbon road, fled a pedestrian to the bus stop on the corner of Eleventh and J streets, and received injuries from which she died two hours later. The automobile was not going at a high speed. Miss Smith was a widow, with two brothers, Manville Barber of this city, and Isaac W. Barber, now at Pacific Grove, and a son, Manville Smith, now in the City of Mexico.

HART, U.S.A., to capture the Orient on the transom bridge across the corner of Eleventh and J streets in the Lisbon road, fled a pedestrian to the bus stop on the corner of Eleventh and J streets, and received injuries from which she died two hours later. The automobile was not going at a high speed. Miss Smith was a widow, with two brothers, Manville Barber of this city, and Isaac W. Barber, now at Pacific Grove, and a son, Manville Smith, now in the City of Mexico.

INCREASE OF A MILLION.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—At a meeting of the stockholders of the Bank of California held today, it was decided to increase the capital stock of the institution from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000.

Carbolic Acid Root.

SACRAMENTO, July 15.—A daring robbery occurred shortly after midnight this morning, when two masked men entered the home of Mrs. Titus and searched the house, while a woman was absent, at the point of a pistol. The woman was absent, and the burglars evidently knew. Mrs. Titus was summoned to the door by a ring of the bell. The men covered her eyes, held her mouth, and threatened her with death. She was an outcast. They secured about $20 in cash, but thoroughly ransacked the place in search of other valuables.

Chinese Student Turned Back.

SACRAMENTO, July 15.—United States Immigration Commissioner North has ordered the deportation of T. T. Lee, a Chinese graduate of Yale College, who was returning to this country from Dutch Java. Lee presented a certificate signed by the Dutch authorities certifying that he was a citizen of that country, and that he was a student, and therefore entitled to admission into the United States. The certificate was written in Dutch, and was not therefore in compliance with the law requiring all such certificates to be written in the English language.

ALLEGED CORRUPTION OF THE POLICE
IN SAN DIEGO, July 16.—Alleged corruption of the police and underworld, which the young man who escaped from a country woman and was shot by police officers a lively chapter during the night. He is a young man who passed several hours and fled being arrested until he at once gave evidence, but the officers thought he was planning to become violent. At first and day, until yesterday he was transferred to the hospital, his men on positively determined, that the hospital last night he had escaped, embracing the strength he succeeded in getting on a 300-pound iron bar, which he ascended two flights of stairs and then ran away. All the clothing he had on, a pair of shoes, an undershirt, stockings. As Smith was alone, his absence was not discovered until the early hours the next morning. It was sent to the office of the Pacific National Bank. They say that they were told that W. H. Lucas of Taft and E. Dugdale of the Sanitatis was at Del Mar for a conference. Mr. Harris nor I care if the fugitive lunatic is at our home, gave her a right to tell the police. Constable of the north of this town, who said he would chase him away. Smith was clothed brought here and placed in a jail at the jail.

The sheriff, and was soon in following the trail capture at Del Mar came in. On the way down from him locked himself into the room of the car, where he sat out through the window, remaining quiet for awhile after this afternoon, he resumed his seat in the lead of Los Angeles, and besides tore out clothing to shreds. The next incline to the original course. Smith's allusion is it is all set for him. His examination is set for

CHICAGO, July 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]—There was a short conference of the San Francisco Board of the Pacific Coast League at the Auditorium of Professional Baseball on Friday night. THE CITY IN BRIEF

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Thomas is Broke.

J. A. Thomas, a farmer of Tulare, says he is broke. In a petition of bankruptcy filed in the United States District Court, yesterday he claims to be about $10,000 in debt, as many debts are unliquidated and he asks the court to declare him insolvent.

Street-car Spies Silent.

For the first time in many months the voices of the spiers employed at the railroad stations by the Los Angeles and Traction Street Railway Companies, were silent yesterday. Perhaps they are still at work, but without advice or hindrance. Any further proof necessary to show that Huntington now owns the whole works?

Shorter Here.

Hon. Samuel M. Shortridge and E. E. Kindlespire of San Francisco arrived here yesterday evening, en route to Lower California. They go on business connected with the Pacific Fishing & Exploration Company, in which Mr. Shortridge is interested and of which Mr. Kindlespire is supervisor. They will be in the city about a week.

Nuisance of Fierce Dogs.

Complaints have been made to the police regarding the presence of vicious dogs in the vicinity of Pepper and Alice streets. On two occasions the animals have broken into corrals and attacked calves. Sunday F. J. Patterson discovered a fine calf so severely injured that it had to be killed. Two mornings later A. B. Glass found a calf belonging to him dead and mangy on the ground.

Knocked by Car.

While driving across the intersection of Third and San Pedro streets yesterday morning, Thomas Foster, foreman for A. C. Starnard, a United States mail contractor, and residing at No. 102 San Pedro, was got the way of a west-bound Traction car. In the collision Foster was thrown out of his buggy and struck on the back of his head against the ground. At the Receiving Hospital a three-inch cut in his scalp was stitched. Crasy or Very "Wise."

A roughly dressed man whose papers showed he had been employed at a railroad grading camp, boarded a Long Beach electric car, bound for Los Angeles last evening and refused to pay his fare. When the conductor threatened to put him off, he suddenly acted in a manner which led those near him to think him insane. He was brought to this city and at Ninth street transferred to First and Spring streets, where he effected the car and took him to the Police Station. His violent actions caused the officers to handcuff him. On his papers appeared the name of John French. Not a cent of money was found on his person and the police think he may have played crasy to get his ride for nothing. The case will be investigated today.

First Shrine Back.

Oscar Muir is the first of the Shrine members to return from Saragossa. He arrived yesterday, and says that the other members of the party will come straining in from all directions after Saturday. Mr. Muir reports the "biggest" time on record as far as the Shrine is concerned, and graced the engine that hauled their special train, was the wonder of the natives. At way stations almost the entire populace of the countryside would be gathered when the train passed, having been attracted by the unearthly screaming of the whistle. At the small towns, where they blow a whistle as a fire alarm, the train was sometimes met by the local fire company, thinking it betokened a conflagration.

BREVITIES.

Subscriptions for the $200,000 issue of Polygraph High School funds of the city of Los Angeles will be received by the City Clerk and registered in the order in which they are received. The issue is dated June 1, 1905, and consists of two parts, each of $100.

Interest on the bonds is 5 per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, June 1 and December 1. These bonds are exempt from taxation-prime rate and compound interest to date of delivery. August 1, 1905.

If you want to know all about Avila and Catalina Island, who's there, and what's doing, send 50 cents to The Times office for a monthly subscription to "Avila and Catalina," daily published by The Times-Mirror Company. It prints "All the News All the Time" concerning the enchanted island, and tells big stories every day.

The Southern Pacific's Coast division is soon to have a new superintendent—Superintendent Burkhardt of the San Joaquin Valley division. It is expected that change will be made when Superintendent Worthington is promoted to assistant to General Manager Kruttschnitt.

Assistant General Freight and Passenger Agent of the Southern Pacific has had an advisor of some emergency rate on bonds this year, and he has written to San Francisco to find out whether the good news is true or false.

Champ Clark and members of the Missouri Society will go to Mt. Lowe today, leaving the Angels at 3 a.m.
The party will be personally conducted by "Uncle Buck" Kelly, an old-time passenger, who is city spokesman agent of the Pacific Electric Railway Company.

The laundry girls of Los Angeles are going to Mt. Lowe Sunday.

Harry Moore, former newspaper man of Toledo, O., has been appointed head of the advertising department of the Santa Fe in this city.
He succeeds W. H. Brown, resigned.
Mr. Moore was born in General Post Agent Byrne's office since February.

George F. Knob has been appointed general yardmaster of the Colorado and Southern at Trinidad, in place of John C. McElroy, who has taken a similar position with the Southern Pacific in Los Angeles.

is in the City Jail charged with a crime which if proven, the young man will have to stand trial for.

There was an added element of danger in the body of St. Joseph and the Sisters of St. Paul in their work, and the Bishop had laid a special curse upon the priest.

BUSINESS.

The local bank clearings yesterday exceeded a million and a half dollars—to be exact, $1,525,056.00, a splendid increase over last year's figures for the same day, $956,750.25. The corresponding date in 1897 shows only $627,493.50. Everywhere is the volume of business reported satisfactory for this season of the year. Many lines of trade have known no cessation.

Violent liquidation of stocks and bonds continued on the New York exchange yesterday, establishing a low record of value for the year. There was a spurt in lard at Chicago, but wheat and corn suffered a break in the closing hour which brought prices downward.

POPE LEO XIII.

"We must not forget, gentlemen, that we are dealing with a man who commands the respect and admiration of the civilized world." Thus exclaimed Francesco Crispi, the Italian Premier, in the midst of a discussion among his colleagues, some of whom had advocated harsh measures against the Vatican. This was in the earlier days of Leo's pontificate. It was then, it is true today. In the largest sense, the civilized world recognizes in the person of the aged Pontiff, whose sands of earthly life are now so nearly run, a man in every way worthy of its highest respect and admiration. This may in truth be said of the Pope as a man, quite irrespective of his exalted position as head of the Roman Catholic Church.

In his life of Leo XIII, Justin McCarthy says: "The biographer of Pius IX writes the history of an era rather than that of a man. The biographer of Leo XIII writes the history of a man rather than that of an era." This epigrammatic statement expresses, in some measure, the spirit which has animated Pope Leo's reign. While its history is essentially the history of an era, it is also the history of a man unquestionably great; great in intellect, and great in the qualities of human kindness. His strong and persuading personality has impressed itself upon his entire pontificate, and upon the world during its continuance. This has been done, not in the way of arbitrary power, or through the masterful diplomacy of a great and resourceful intellect.

In the course of a comprehensive article published in the New York Times of July 9, made up of extracts from the forthcoming biography of the Pope by Thomas B. Connery, the writer declares that "from the moment of his elevation to the chair of St. Peter a great, a subtle change in the air of the Vatican was discernible. What was this change?" he continues. "Something, to this writer at least, undefinable. The world has felt and seen it, although it is difficult of expression in mere words. It was the emanation of a new influence—an intellectual as well as spiritual force—fresh, vigorous, wise, firm." The policy of Leo did not differ from that of Pius IX in essentials, though differing radically as to methods. Both, as Mr. Connery says, "opposed governmental interference, at home or abroad, in matters of purely religious and disciplinary concern. But there was a striking difference in the methods of manifestation. Pius seemed to wrap himself with the garment of seclusion, refraining from effort to come to better understanding with the various powers hostile to the church. To the outside world his attitude had the appearance of waiting for divine interposition on behalf of the church. Leo, on the other hand, seemed to think and act as one who believes that Providence wills that his Vicar on earth shall use all justifiable worldly means to a justifiable end." His policy "has been and is that of active effort toward reconciliation with all the powers of the world for the better interests of the church."

The above is an excellent statement of Leo's policy and purpose, in a few words. His work was essentially constructive. To quote Justin McCarthy once more, "every one felt that Leo was a man of tenacious purpose, with a reconstructive power." His work of reconstruction and reconciliation for murder in the same degree as if the crime were committed by an individual.

"There is going to be a reaction against the atrocious crimes with which the papers have been filled. I expect that it will come soon. I cannot say what form it will take, but there will be an uprising of popular feeling against lynchings which will result in legislation, or a remedy of some other form."

It is certainly high time that such an uprising should begin.

THE REIGN OF LAWLESSNESS.

From all parts of the country come daily accounts of crime upon crime, of mob violence, lynchings, robberies, murders, and all conceivable forms of lawlessness, until the mind sickens at the contemplation of so much evil in a world that ought to be bright and beautiful, a fit place for the habitation of good men and good women. Optimists declare that the world is growing better. But to one who reads the daily record of crime, it almost seems as if the reverse were true. In view of this fearful history, with its ever-recurring chapters of horror, it is extremely difficult to wax optimistic on the subject of criminology.

The United States is fast attaining to the unenviable distinction of being the most lawless country on earth. While we have not the statistics at hand to prove this assertion, it is undoubtedly true that more crimes are committed here, in proportion to population, than in any other civilized nation. And, worst of all, crime is unquestionably on the increase in this country. The increase is not to be accounted for on the ground of increasing population, for it more than keeps pace with that increase. To the close observer it is evident that there is a growing disrespect for law among the great body of the people themselves. Not that this feeling is shared by the people; far from it. But the "criminal class" is increasing out of all proportion to the increase of population, and the people as a whole are apparently becoming more indifferent to violations of law.

There are reasons for all this, and without much doubt, the principal reason is to be found in the lax manner in which the laws are enforced. In no country on earth are legal quibbles so often and so successfully invoked to defeat the ends of justice as in the United States. "The law's delay" has become with us a practicality of the criminal lawyer having twisted the law from its honest original intent into an instrument to defeat or delay, rather than to subserve, the ends of justice. The lavish use of money in the defense of known criminals has often served to secure the miscarriage of justice, by involving a case in an almost imminable maze of litigation.

Not that our courts are corrupt. The American judiciary is probably as upright a body of men as can be found in similar positions anywhere. But our laws are more, especially those of the several States—are a curious jumble of redundant and overlapping provisions, which afford rich pickings for the sharp and not over-scrupulous lawyer, bent upon clearing his client at any cost. We have too many and too complex laws, and many of them seem to have been framed with a view of providing loopholes for the escape of criminals rather than to furnish means for their punishment.

One of the reasons for the prevalent disregard for law is doubtless to be found in the fact that many of our laws have proved so defective as hardly to be worthy of respect. Another reason lies in the increasing lawlessness of trade unions, which lawlessness escapes punishment more frequently than it receives punishment that it deserves. In every instance where violators of the law escape punishment, disregard for the authority of law is increased.

The pure and blameless private life of the Pontiff has been an example to the whole world. If it had not been for the large fund of vital force laid up as a result of his temperance and self-denial, the Pope could never have reached the fulness of years and the plenitude of wisdom which have made the closing scenes of his life so memorable. And in these sad hours, while the sands of his life are slowly running into eternity, the general sorrow is tempered with thanksgiving that he was spared to complete his great work so fully and so satisfactorily. In the widest sense, as he passes from the earth life into the life eternal, does this grand old man merit the commendation, "Well done thou good and faithful servant. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."

LYNCHING IS MURDER.

Another chance for Russia to get in a sly dig at the United States, in return for our criticism of outrages on the Russian Jews, is furnished in an event that happened in West Virginia a few days ago, when a negro was slain to pieces by an infuriated mob. It is true that the crime of which he was guilty was a most fiendish one, and deserving of the severest punishment. He had forfeited his life to society, and society would have been justified in the taking of his life, but it should have been done decently, and through the proper channels. If we are to follow out the axiom, "An eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth," to the limit, then a man who commits a brutal crime should be made to suffer in as nearly as practicable the same manner as did his victim. This, of course, would be unreasonable and impossible. Therefore, the only proper thing to be done in such cases is to kill the man legally, after due process of law, whether by hanging or electrocution, as the custom in that particular commonwealth may be.

The negro referred to had been caught in the act of ravishing a young girl, whom he had previously repeatedly assaulted. The dispatch states that he was skinned with sharp knives, the flesh torn from his bones, and portions of his body then carried off as souvenirs by those who assisted at the affair.

It is not so much on account of the suffering entailed upon the victims of these tragedies in the South that they are to be deplored, but because of the inevitably demoralizing effect which they must have upon the spectators and those who read about them, especially upon the growing generation, and furthermore, on account of the ill repute which they bring upon the American nation abroad. An associate justice of the United States Supreme Court recently said: "Every man who participates in the lynching or the burning of a negro is a murderer pure and simple." He added:

"The principal participants in the crime can be held by any court in the land for murder in the same degree as if the crime were committed by an individual.

"There were 2718 persons killed and wounded in this country during the celebration of the Glorious Fourth, not counting the back spasms from which no returns were received. It does seem as if there might be some more reasonable way to make the eagle scream than to sing his falsettos and blow his head off.

A movement to amalgamate the Socialists, Populists and Metropolitans is to be undertaken at a forthcoming conference at Denver. We hasten to place Mr. Bryan in nomination for the Presidency on the party's ticket, for fear he may be overlooked in the shuffle.

The latest fool with a gun has appeared on the banks of the Hudson, far away, in the person of a humorist who loaded a squatting cannon with birdshot and fired the charge into passing steamers. But the stupid passengers, who were duly peppered, couldn't see the joke. Funny, wasn't it?

It is now reported that Russia and America have reached an understanding. We trust that this observation will see the light before the news comes trailing in under the salty drink and over the sage-heated deserts that war is about to break out.

The people of Washington street who saw the sprinkler man go by on Tuesday evening, letting out his cooling and dust-laying showers, are hopeful that it isn't to be his last trip out this summer.

Buy Vicks. Mich. is in a peck of trouble. Thirteen skunks have already been killed there, but there is no ready which refuses to come out and be counted. Wonder how they know?

Kentucky has reversed the usual order by lynching a white man. But when it comes to violent measures one need be surprised at nothing that may happen in Kentucky.

It appears that Uncle Sam is to negotiate the Czar that we have a letter for him; and if the Russian ruler doesn't want the epistle to the Russians it won't be sent.

Riviera has been a bit backward about furnishing candidates for the garters, but in her first attempt she certainly produced one who was entirely fit.

It is almost too warm to think about building a Panama canal, let alone building one. Perhaps that may account for the quiescence in that regard.

King Pete is doubtless trying to think up some way of punishing the assassins of the late King Alexander that won't hurt their feelings.

Kansas City wants one of the big political conventions next year, and Los Angeles would doubtless make a try, too. If we only had a hall.

Mr. Platt explains that the way to do politics is to stand pat; and that is the way a good many of them feel about it out in Iowa.

Mr. Morgan objects to having cameras pointed at him. Probably Pierpont isn't in the camera trust, which may account for his diffidence.

There is this much to be said for those sloping couples from the East who show up here; they know the best place to come to.

A Montana Jurist says he wasn't paid for decisions in a noted mining case; and he surely ought to know what he is talking about.

A Kentucky newspaper states that "Kentucky is growing better." She has certainly had plenty of room to grow that way in.

Fischer, the Riverside murderer, died conveniently, and the people of California accepted his disappearance as the best.

New York has another get-rich-quick concern under suspicion; but Gotham has none the better of Los Angeles in this regard.

The Kearns propose to rival the famous cruise of the Oregon, but she can't do it—there isn't a Spanish fleet laying for her; consequently it will only be playing keep house instead of the real thing.

It is at least something for Sir Charles Lipton to build a yacht that will be the one he built the year previous.

Now that Mr. Lipton has some Yankee sail makers working for him he will have a good set of sails; he may count on that.

Should you witness a strange shape in the skies it will probably be Prof. Langley's airship out for a trial spin.

At last there is peace in the Vanderbilts. It has certainly been a mighty long time on the road.

Gen. Miles has shown that he is entirely fit for any sort of a race.

How to Keep Cool.

"How do you manage to keep cool?" one man asked another as they walked along Griswold street.

"Why, it is very easy," was the reply. "I go to bed early, with the windows wide open, and get up early in the morning. I eat a light breakfast, no hot food and no meat at all. I walk slowly to the car, being careful to keep on the shady side of the street at all times. I never look at a thermometer or a weather prognosticator. My wife keeps the windows closed at home and the curtains drawn, but I am the same as possible. I have cut out tea and coffee, and I drink no water and very little milk at my meals. I take glasses of water in the middle of the afternoon, and the third just before going to bed. The water is not bad, either. I don't allow ice cream and iced melons in the house. I do not smoke, either, except when I have stopped smoking, because it beats the blood."

"Is that all?"

"Yes."

"Well, I think I'd rather be hot."

The World's Wealth.

A writer in one of the recent issues gives some interesting information concerning the distribution of the wealth of the world. The total wealth of the world is estimated at $400,000,000,000, sum the larger part is owned by Americans and Europeans, the Chinese being in the neighborhood of $11,500,000,000—a little less than $100,000,000, making Great Britain next with property in many's portion is about $100,000,000, and Russia's $32,000,000,000. Double murder and a suicide are believed to have been committed in Los Angeles. Tuesday night, yesterday, or last night, or any time to be communicated, yet the police are absolutely powerless to prevent the crimes or find the victims or victims-to-be.

In an obscure lodging or rooming house, or in some place hidden from easy observation, it is feared that the bodies of Mrs. Mary Hughelett, until recently of Santa Ana, Frank, her son, aged 14, and Grace, her daughter, aged 12, will be found; the children dead by the hand of the mother, and she a self-slaver. There is little reason to doubt that a terrible tragedy may be brought to light today, for the mother must certainly be insane upon the subject. She has laid careful plans to end her life, and has determined to take with her into the unknown hereafter her children.

If the mother has not carried her threat into execution, and there are persons in Los Angeles who know her or know where she is, the police detectives appeal to them to at once notify the authorities in order that the proper steps may be taken.

Two young German people, John Drastis and his wife, who came all the way to America with the avowed purpose of making such a hazardous trip, started in a little sailboat for the distant Arctic regions. Drastis is 21 and his wife 22. They say they love each other, and do not fear the broad, blue ocean. They had spent several weeks in preparation, and started well provided with supplies and provisions. They were apparently as happy as if bound for a more hospitable corner of the universe than the icy Northland.

The boat that carries them, the Alert, has been plying about these waters for many years, and, although worn with age considerably, is looked upon by those familiar with her gear as a good craft in almost any kind of weather. She is small, though—too small to attempt a trip alone, and sometimes rough body of water, and yet her master and his wife began the voyage as coolly as a captain might go on a warship.

The Alert, who was christened many years ago, is a smooth-sailed craft, measuring about thirty-three feet over all, with a twelve-foot beam. She was owned by a party in San Pedro named Olsen, but purchased by Drastis and his wife for $300.

The young German spent the money in fitting out the boat for his trip, and before he left had carefully loaded $250 worth of provisions in his hull, which are to last until he and his wife reach their destination—if ever.

Drastis and his wife are going to a point about 600 miles east of the McNeil River, which flows into the Arctic Ocean, in search of possible skins of fox, whose skins are said to be very valuable. They expect to spend the winter somewhere down stream, and probably far along next summer. If misfortune does not overtake them, Drastis said he and his wife would probably return to this section in about two or three years.

San Francisco will be the only stop between here and the Bering Sea, made by these two queer little people. Drastis said he intends to head his boat out to sea after leaving the northern metropolis, and when the vessel is worn out, he and he left yesterday morning.

At his bedside were Mrs. Smith, now his widow; his son, R. L. Smith, and his daughters, Mrs. George E. Buxton of Bisbee, and Miss Mary Smith. The family will leave for Phoenix with the body on Saturday and the funeral will be held on Sunday. The deceased was a Mason, and a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Loyal Legion.

John Y. T. Smith was over 71 years of age, and had been a resident of Phoenix, Ariz., since 1885. He was three times elected to the Territorial Legislature, was once Speaker of the House and once Territorial Treasurer. As an ardent Republican he took the deepest interest, and a most prominent part in local politics. He was a miller by trade and built the first roller-process mill in Arizona. He was also a member of the strong wholesale produce firm known as the "Buxton-Smith Company, a director in the National Bank of Arizona, and had other prominent and responsible business connections.

A short time ago she decided to move to Berkeley and open a small boarding house for students at the State University. Her relatives had given her enough to live on for a time, and it was supposed her venture had been a success, but she did not succeed in Berkeley and must have given way again to her grief to the extent that her mind became partially狂乱.

During his early career he was stationed at Los Angeles in the government service, and also in San Luis Obispo. He made many trips between San Diego and Yuma, which at that early day meant great privation, and showed the metal of which Smith was made. He went through the Civil War as a member of the Fourth California Volunteers, and when mustered out of the service in 1865, took a government contract of some kind at Phoenix, and has lived and prospered there during all the intervening years.

He is a man popular and influential, and had a wide reputation which has been done for the advancement of of the city of Phoenix and the Territory.

At his bedside were Mrs. Smith, now his widow; his son, R. L. Smith, and his daughters, Mrs. George E. Buxton of Bisbee, and Miss Mary Smith. The family will leave for Phoenix with the body on Saturday and the funeral will be held on Sunday. The deceased was a Mason, and a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and the Loyal Legion.

John Y. T. Smith was over 71 years of age, and had been a resident of Phoenix, Ariz., since 1885. He was three times elected to the Territorial Legislature, was once Speaker of the House and once Territorial Treasurer. As an ardent Republican he took the deepest interest, and a most prominent part in local politics. He was a miller by trade and built the first roller-process mill in Arizona. He was also a member of the strong wholesale produce firm known as the "Buxton-Smith Company, a director in the National Bank of Arizona, and had other prominent and responsible business connections.

A short time ago she decided to move to Berkeley and open a small boarding house for students at the State University. Her relatives had given her enough to live on for a time, and it was supposed her venture had been a success, but she did not succeed in Berkeley and must have given way again to her grief to the extent that her mind became partially狂乱.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

It became known yesterday that the State, through the Board of Examiners, has purchased the city's common school buildings.

Park Commissioners and Councilmen visited Griffith Park yesterday to inspect pasture for a fine band of elk.

Several estimates of department expenditures for the fiscal year were filed with the City Auditor yesterday.

The Broome murder case arguments will open this morning.

Lawyers in the Hill will contest are arguing and progress is slow.

AT THE CITY HALL,

STATE PURCHASES OUR MUNICIPAL SECURITIES.

SCHOOL BONDS SOLD TO BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

Facts Revealed in Dispatch from Sacramento Yesterday—Papers Will be Signed Today and Taken North by Security Company Agent.

It was learned yesterday through a dispatch from Sacramento that the $400,000 issue of common-school bonds has been purchased by the State. The Los Angeles Trust Company and the William R. Stans Company of Pasadena represented the State Board of Examiners in the transaction. Ever since the bill was introduced the real identity of the "purchaser" was closely guarded by those officials at the City Hall who were aware of the facts. It was generally thought until yesterday that the bonds had been secured by an eastern syndicate of bond buyers.

The money used for the purchase of the bonds, it is understood, is derived from the State's school lands. By virtue of a bill passed by the last Legislature the State Board of Examiners has power to invest moneys in its possession in municipal securities. The bill was introduced by Walter S. Melch of Pasadena, and it is said that he was instrumental in securing the William R. Stans Company of that city in arranging the purchase.

Yesterday afternoon City Treasurer Workman and Clerk Leland attended the City Hall to receive a copy of the bonds and last night Mayor Snyder added his name to many of the securities. This morning the names of the bonds will be signed and A. H. Howard, representative of the United States Mortgage and Trust Company of New York, will take them to Sacramento for delivery.

The city securities bear 3% per cent, and are considered safe and a good investment as government bonds. It is a possibility that the Polytechnic High School bonds or the storm-drain bond issue of $40,000 may be put up by the Board of Examiners for the State.

LOCATE THE ELK.

FERTILE ACREAGE SELECTED.

The Mayor, accompanied by Park Commissioners, members of the Council and other city officials, visited Griffith Park yesterday and approved the site selected by Alden Sampson of the Department of Agriculture and Col. G. J. Griffith, donor of the park, for the placement of 100 government elk now running at the ranch of the Miller & Lux ranch in Kern County.

The party which left the City Hall at 9 o'clock yesterday morning was composed of the following named: Gen. J. Griffith, George Rice and D. W. Stewart, Councilmen William M. Bowen, C. F. Skillings, Owen McAleer and Ed. Kern, Fire Commissioner Thompson, Police Commissioner Col. C. C. Schwabach, A. Turner, Park Superintendent Louis Legrand, Assistant Superintendent John G. Morley, Mr. Hopkins, Harry L. Hopkins, Richard K. Culver, A. E. Peterson, H. M. Love, H. W. Frank.

At the park Col. Griffith took the commissioners and Councilmen over the land selected for the elk. From 100 to 500 acres of land were chosen to pose. It includes a level tract to the east of "Ostrich" canon, on which all falls, boulders or other feed can be found. A large amount of underbrush and many large live oaks, which afford a plenty of shade in the deep park there is a bubble of spring water produces a small stream.

Col. Griffith informed the party that Alden Sampson, the game expert, had selected the spot ideal for the purpose, and he had been told he had found it elsewhere in California. On the north of the tract selected for pasture there is a level stretch of land embracing about 600 acres which can easily be grown for irrigation. On this land alfalfa for the elk can be grown at slight cost. Owing to the productive nature of the soil of the pasture and the large amount of underbrush within the park Col. Griffith is confident that the elk will require feeding but a small part of the year.

A drive was made around the new driveway that had been constructed in the park. The mountain road goes around the bluffs which run the main canon on the north side of the park and from many of the turns an excellent view of the San Joaquin Valley can be obtained. The work of building roads has only just begun and the commissioners expect to carry it forward as fast as appropriations will permit.

After the inspection of the park the party gathered beneath a giant sequoia tree and a picnic lunch provided by Secretary Hopkins and Foreman Marion of the park was served. When the elk were disturbed they were armed with a large machete, demanded order and as toastmaster called for a brief speech. In his opinion remained the impression that Griffith was an elephant on the hands of the city, but that it seemed destined to prove an elk.

On the last day of his life when the hand of 100 elk was safely enclosed in the park, there to graze a thousand two-footed brethren. He said he hoped the foot of the deer could be seen from the hill above the Arroyo Seco, and he watched the bloody fight through a pair of field glasses from the steps of his home, two blocks away.

CALLED IN REBUTTAL.

At 12 o'clock the defense rested, and a recess was taken until 2 o'clock.

At the commencement of the afternoon session the people opened rebuttal, the first witness being George Lardner, aged 12, who was a pupil of Miss Plato's. The lad said that when he came to school on the morning of May 21, following the shooting, he told Miss Plato about the killing of Broome and she seemed much surprised and said he heard shooting, but thought the shots were from a gun at pigeons.

Another laugh came in the course of the cross-examination of little George by Mr. Rogers. George had said that he recited this conversation to him, and Mr. Rogers asked to know why. "So you didn't get me tangled up," came the pert reply.

Mrs. John Hauser testified that two days after the shooting Miss Plato that only recently had the people begun to appreciate the value of the donation.

The other Councilmen followed in the same vein, each agreeing to provide as liberal an appropriation for the park as the city's finances would admit.

Commissioner Crisp and Sampson and H. W. Frank expressed their appreciation of the park donation and their belief in its future value to the city.

The session of the Park Commission, the first of its kind—was then held beneath the sycamore tree, and J. M. Garrison was appointed foreman of Central Park and Henry Jones foreman of Plaza and City Hall parks. The Mayor then declared the meeting adjourned.

After a further inspection of the roadways the party climbed into the six-horse tallyho for the journey homeward.

More Estimates Filed.

Street Superintendent Wedderburn yesterday filed with the City Auditor an estimate of the cost of removing his department during the coming fiscal year. The total expense is estimated at $281,964 of which $182,554 is for general expenses, $54,719 for street sweeping, $16,212 for lighting, $12,728 for water, $10,250 for police, $7,587 for building Superintendent, $8,825 for City Engineer, $11,624, all but $6,250 of which will come from bond permits, fees etc.; City Attorney, $9,764; City Auditor, $1,000.

Mr. Carrie Pruden of Acton was called to impeach the testimony of Osmer Rebick.

Guy Broome, stepson of the man whom Wedderburn bought out, was called to testify in support of his claim.

The Court adjourned until 10 o'clock.

AT THE COURT HOUSE

MELROSE ARGUMENTS BEGIN THIS MORNING.

CASE SHOULD GO TO THE JURY SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Dr. Sawyer Creates Sensation by Testifying There Was No Evidence of Bullet Wound in Broome's Head—Closing of Testimony.

The chief sensation of the Melrose murder trial came at 2:35 o'clock yesterday afternoon, just as the examination of evidence was being concluded.

E. O. Sawyer, a witness for the prosecution, who with Dr. Trueworthy made the examination of Broome's skull at June 15, was on the stand for the prosecution in rebuttal. He was called in support of the people's claim that Melrose shot Broome in the back of the head, this being the point on which the whole case turns. But his testimony was to the effect that "there was no evidence whatsoever of a bullet wound in Broome's head," and in his opinion "the two holes in the skin of Broome's head could not have been made by a bullet." A subdued murmur of surprise ran through the crowd.

Dr. Sawyer testified in brief as follows:

At the request of the District Attorney he obtained from the Health Officer the services of Dr. Trueworthy to examine the skull made by himself and Dr. Trueworthy. He "phoned" Mr. Ohnsander to open the grave, and Dr. Trueworthy went to the cemetery, and found the coffin had been exhumed, but there was no evidence present from the District Attorney. Mr. Trueworthy examined the skull at 10:30 a.m. and at 1:45 p.m. He was called in again to corroborate the testimony of George Lardner impeaching the testimony of Miss Plato, but the witness failed to corroborate. Asked whether he being present at the time of the shooting knew of anything that might have been done to Broome, he said "I don't think so." On cross-examination he said that Miss Plato merely "asked George what had been the matter."

A BEARDED TEUTON.

Superintendent George Ohnsander of the Cemetery, a German with deep Teutonic sounds between his teeth, told about the exhuming of Broome's body. He admitted that when the coffin was raised the lid dropped off, but he was very sure that the coffin had not been tampered with while it lay in the ground over night. He explained that the lid never had been screwed down, but was fastened by means of slots and catches.

Winter Dushens, recalled, denied that he overheard August Schulte say the evening of the killing: "Broome shot once, and Melrose shot three times."

He admitted that he had not been present when the watch was pawned, and when he saw it again he knew it was pawned for moonshiners.

Clark observed he lost the timepiece in Central Park, but no evidence was adduced to show that Laws had stolen it.

Arthur Laws, a laboring man, was arrested yesterday in the Police Court yesterday.

Praise for Final Gusher.

This unkindly commented upon and had been called cold and proud because of her great success had gone to a friend with her perplexity and received a little the sound advice.

"Smile when you meet people," said the mentor. "Try to look pleased, even if you don't feel it. Put on bright expression when you shake hands and go through the motions of being gratified at the meeting."

The advice was admirable. The pleasure of a smile, the smile, mean a great deal to the person who is being introduced. Yet there is a kind of salvation in the smile, in the gushers, whenever she comes to town.

"I do not for a moment wish to be a gusher," she said. "I am a very attractive little girl."

The old lady's youth the gusher had now looked upon as part of the girl's attractiveness.

The majority of persons nowadays are not likely to be cheerful.

They say they called gushers by a name in the days "when Madam was President" and in that period.

They are great many things in a different from what we do now.

They have a mark of delicacy for the young girls, a mark of coquetry for the old ones.

They are a gusher, which one cannot laugh at, and even serious, so serious as to come near being a sorrow.

Because laughter is so dear and fully expensive, if you are not with things that are not funny, what will you do?

The commonplace giggle of the ordinary is not provoked by fun or amusement.

It is the crackling of them that is so good, so serious, so serious as to come
near being a sorrow.

Never have a giggling girl more often in evidence than on the streets and in other public places. It is here that she attracts the attention of the passers-by by her ill-timed mirth.

NINES AND MINING.
GENERAL ACTIVITY IN GOLD RODS COUNTRY.

LOCAL COMPANY OPERATING ITS NEW DRY CRUSHERS.

Champion of Alhambra Reported to Have Sold Treasures Mines Near Tucson—Prospecting for Coal in Mexico—On Stock Market.

The Gold Roads Company has the finest and most complete dry crushing and cyanide plants in the United States," said Manager Thomas of the mining machinery department of the Llewellyn Iron Works. "It is now in full operation and is doing good work."

The plant is located in the San Francisco district of Arizona, not far from Tucson, and the latest information is that it is handling close to 10,000 tons of ore a day. Two of the rolls were shipped from this city.

There is considerable activity around Tucson, and it is reported that there are more operators at work than ever before. In the San Francisco district proper all of the large operators are busy, and several are making extensive improvements.

Gold Roads mine is one of the really good gold properties in the Southwest country, and although not recently claimed among the prospectors, those familiar with the property say it will soon become an important factor.

TRESAMIGOS MINES SOLD.

A dispatch from Tucson received yesterday states that S. W. Champion of Alhambra has sold his valuable group of mines known as the Tresamigos. The properties are seventy miles south of Tucson and are regarded as the most promising recently-developed mines in that part of Arizona.

The purchasers are said to be J. L. Owen and associates, and the consideration paid is $100,000. Of this amount $25,000 has been paid.

PROSPECTING FOR COAL.

Increasing demands for cheap fuel in Mexico has resulted in a growing considerable interest in new districts where there are indications of petroleum and coal. Recently a strong company was organized in the City of Mexico to explore the coal fields of the State of Michoacan. Among the venture are a number of American capitalists who are pleased with the showing. A little over 12,000 acres of land have been acquired.

Half Yearly Cleanup Sale.

The public response to this great sale has been more than we expected, but not more than the values offered warranted. Another pleasing feature of the sale is that while this store closed last Saturday afternoon and evening, the public appreciated the fact of our giving such Saturday half holiday to our employees and reserved that part of their Saturday trading until Monday, and from the time the doors opened the store was crowded with customers. We appreciate this testimonial endorsing our action of initiating Saturday half holiday for department stores in Southern California.

STORE OPEN ALL DAY THURSDAY.

Not Playing to the Galleries.

Hamburger's are consistent in all their efforts both for their employees' general public good. A year ago we gave all employees a week's vacation with pay, which equals 9 days' vacation with pay. We do not discriminate between men and women, but all receive the same benefits. In giving a week's vacation last year it was not to give them a week off, but to give them with us a week of play—no time to go to the galleries in leading the public to believe that we are so popular that we close the store some afternoon in midweek and give a week's vacation all—when as a matter of fact such vacation applies to those only who have been here a long time and does not affect more than 1/2 of the employees. Such philosophy

"CHIVINGTON MASSACRE."

ONE HUNDRED INDIANS WERE SLAUGHTERED—THE CAMP EXTERMINATED—NINETY-SIX WOMEN AND CHILDREN KILLED OR MURDERED OUT BY SOLDIERS.

BY C. S. HORTON.

Editor, "Advertiser," Western Union Telegraphic Service Company.

I TELL to my lot through a rather singular combination of circumstances to take part in what is commonly known as the Sand Creek or Chivington massacre, one of the bloodiest tragedies in the history of Indian warfare in the West. I was a boy of 18 years old when the massacre occurred, and that faithful November day thirty years ago neither lapse of time nor change of scene has served to efface the memory of that day.

"In the summer of 1864 I set out from my home in Michigan for the West, finding nothing more acceptable to do than to follow a freight outfit at Nebraska City, about forty miles south of Omaha on the Missouri River, and drove an ox team across the plains to Denver, and almost equally near to the mountains in the southern part of the State.

OUTRAGES BY INDIANS.

The Cheyennes and the Arapahoes had committed outrages on the warpath in Colorado that summer, and after crossing the State we came upon the robbing of mail trains that had been held up by Indians whom they had murdered, and arrived at Denver we found that, owing to the Indian uprising, martial law had been declared, and that it had been ordered that all Indians who had been in the mountains should be sent to Fort Lyon, and we were ordered to go out to guard the settlers in the various districts of the mountains, and I hastened to do so.

The Indians had committed many wanton crimes in the State, pillaging and robbing the settlers, and the whites were determined to punish them severely. The one thing more important than that had freed the blood of the people of Denver, and led to my going to the mountains to do my duty, and the cold-blooded murder of a family named Humboldt. The killing of the family was one of the most terrible exhibitions of savagery ever witnessed. The Indians had tortured the members of the family by running ring-bolts taken from the victims' bodies, and had mutilated the bodies of the men and women, and the children were brought into Denver as the scene of the outrage, and of them had aroused the people to a high pitch of excitement, and resentment.

THE CHARGE BEGUN.

General Hancock, and was unopposed by Col. Chivington, until the Department of Colorado, known as the Third Colorado or Chivington's One Hundred.

We rode from Denver out to the mountains and drilled for six weeks, and then to the west, to the Colorado River, and proceeding from there through Pueblo to Fort Lyons.

We went into camp for a day to rest, and then to the mountains, and, with the cold-blooded murder of a family named Humboldt. The killing of the family was one of the most terrible exhibitions of savagery ever witnessed. The Indians had tortured the members of the family by running ring-bolts taken from the victims' bodies, and had mutilated the bodies of the men and women, and the children were brought into Denver as the scene of the outrage, and of them had aroused the people to a high pitch of excitement, and resentment.

MY NARRATIVE HAS BEEN CONFINED

largely to the part of the detachment to which I belonged took in the massacre, which detachments of course had been doing their duty to the best of their ability. We had to march every day, and with the same results. There was no regular plan of battle, for none was possible under the circumstances. We simply rode over the country and hunted down the savages wherever we could find them.

SLAIN IN THE SAND.

Completing the slaughter at the point to which we had ridden from down the creek, we rode farther up the stream in the afternoon, and continued marching northward, and the savages had burrowed into the sand in the bed of the creek at this point and were lying there when we rode up, as motionless as if we had been newly born. We had to shoot them by watching them closely, we were able to detect precisely where the redskins were concealed. If a little mound of sand looked as if it had been newly made, we knew that an Indian was concealed in it, took care and aim and fired. Sometimes an Indian would pop out and take to his heels, and sometimes there would be a convulsive movement of the sand, and all would be quiet and still as death.

The manner in which the Indians had burrowed into the sand along the bed of the creek and thus concealed themselves from view was remarkable, and more singular and remarkable things in connection with Indian warfare had ever been seen or heard of. In most instances they would be scattered over the hill, we of the Indians down on the creek. Men, women and children, all looking toward us. It seems to have been expected officers and men to visit their camp, and the chiefs the terms of peace, and the Indians proposed and desired to give up to government, and, as we subsequently learned, that we thought they did not take us that we were to be quiet and still as death.

THE CAMP SHELLIED.

At the head of the hill a few shells were sent up, and in a few moments white camp was alive, men, women and children rushing excitedly out of the tents and scurrying up, and the savages who were scattered over the hill, were mounted and took the first shot from the howitzers, and ran down the hill at full speed, pell-mell, into the water. A moment's hesitation, and then, with brutal savagery, proceeded to shoot at the Indians who had run into two columns after the order being given by commander for the column to take the weak side of it, the order again, apparently none the worse for his narrow escape from death.

ALONG ABOUT THE MIDDLE OF THE AFTERNOON.

A PAPOOSE SAVED.

I recall a peculiar incident in connection with the killing of a lot of Indians on the Chivington massacre.

The slaughter had been going on for some time, when a member of my company heard the cry of a little papoose amid the roar of battle, and, through the heart of the smoke, saw a small Indian boy clinging to his mother's body, and instantly dropped his gun and scrambled down over the bank to rescue it. He had not gone far when one of the unwhit Indians shot him, the bullet entering his shoulder, and through one of his lungs. He contrived to get the baby safe to the wound, however, and, laying it tenderly on the bank, he reached for his gun and went out to fight, and I fought in accordance with the orders given me to the best of my ability.

C. H. HORTON.

The New York Stock Exchange system is described by Seroos C. Pratt, author of "The Work of Wall Street," etc., in his article to appear in next Sunday's Times.

On the middle of that day, for slugs, battle being entirely something horrible in itself. Approximately 500 redskins and children were buried between the two sides of the creek, and were quite familiar with the horrors of Indian warfare in the mountains or Sand Creek.

In which I was attacked in the creek, dismounted in the water, and then active in the attack. We were armed and ammunition remaining set out at a point on the east bank of the creek, a point where we had had some time of Indians drop dead.

Santa Barbara Links Drawing Many Players.

Finals in Men's Doubles Prove a Splendid Tennis Match.

Freeman and Overton Meet a Stiff Resistance—Venus Again Wins Yacht Race.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.
SANTA BARBARA, July 16.—Golf division started with the tennis players and yachtsmen today. The tournament at the Country Club was successfully inaugurated in the morning, when all the Los Angeles players qualified for match play. In all sixteen finished the two rounds inside the limit, and in the afternoon play the first of the match play was started and finished. As a result, all the Los Angeles talent is at the death.

The excellent playing of William Fredericksen and Charles Orr was easily the feature of the qualifying round, as both of these gentlemen made their eighteen holes in the time of 61, each going twice around the nine-hole course. The local links were kept and covered with firm brown turf, appealed to the Los Angeles contingent very favorably, as was shown by the really first-class scores averaged.

When cards were finally turned in for the opening round of the day's play, William Fredericksen exhibited a 42 and 39, for a total of 81; C. E. Orr had 42 and 41 for a total of 83; Mr. F. M. Maud, 42 and 40, for 82; E. Conde-Jones, 42 and 40, aggregating 82; Ed Tufts, 45 and 38, for 83; W. W. Butler, 41 and 43, for 84; J. E. Cook, 41 and 42, for 83; H. P. Hunt, 41 and 42, for 83; W. F. Weston, 41 and 44, for 85; W. Fox, 42 and 44, totl, 86; C. C. Felton, two 44's, for 88; J. A. Brown, 44 and 44, 89; J. A. Jeune, 47 and 44; George Kaines, 43 and 47, 90; E. A. Gilbert, 42 and 40, 82; Venus, 44, 42. Four others failed to qualify.

In the afternoon the match play began, and the feature of it was easily the golf displayed by Ed Tufts. For once Edward B. was there with the goods, but he had nothing but a sick man to beat—Jack Jeune—but that he displayed form, which would have bought him the two-handed cup almost anywhere. Tufts played under a handicap, and in the final round endeavored to knock a drive of A. W. Fox's with his cranium and the assembly call had to be sounded before humpty-dumpty was put back again. Tufts played a very precise game, and, after a long or the long or short play, pulled himself out of several exasperating bad lies and turned the stroke to advantage near or on the green. On one mistake, which landed him in the road with a bluff of fair-sized proportions to clear, Tufts showed as pretty a niblick shot as one might want to see; plump squarely down on the edge of the green he landed the ball.

Fredericksen played good steady golf, and tomorrow, for the first time in their careers, long as these worthies have been in the game, the company, Tufts and Fredericksen will play a match together. Tufts looks to be about a 5-to-4 shot on today's performance.

C. C. Orr, who tied with Fredericksen for first in qualifying, also showed handsome golf in the morning, and maintained his form for the match play. He had as an opponent C. C. Felton of the local club, a gentleman whom for the gamblers is unaffected by his years. Felton's motto is "consistency," as might be guessed by his two 4's in the qualifying round.

In the afternoon play today Ed Tufts beat J. A. Jeune up and 4 to play; Jeune has been ill ever since coming here, and left tonight for home. He was miles off form, had no strength, and could not do himself justice. William Freeman, Jr., A. W. Fox, 2 up and 6 to play; W. W. Butler took E. Griffith from camp, 1 up; J. E. Cook trinned W. Weston, 5 up; E. Conde-Jones beat E. Tufts, 5 to 3; W. Fox, 2 up and 6 to play; W. W. Butler beat E. Griffith from camp, 1 up; J. E. Cook trinned W. Weston, 5 up; E. Conde-Jones beat E. Tufts, 5 to 3; J. E. Cook, 4 up and 6 to play; C. E. Maud beat George Kaines home with a 6-5 beating, and S. E. Hunt led Gilbert into the hole with the tune of 4 up and 8 to play if wanted.

The ladies' event begins tomorrow morning and Saturday a consolation handicap, 16 holes for losers, will be finished. Play today in the matches was suspended, however, so none will compete for the Guthrie cup. The golf has proved itself a highly enjoyable part of the journey thus far.

Another nice breeze favored the golfers today, and the old, old stories of records were told once more, only a few seconds worse. The Katrina made a good try for honors, but she couldn't drag what she wouldn't carry, and the Puffin, though she was the tiller, was by a minute and 50 yards, beaten.

The other bok-to is more interesting. It is a round boat of the lightest iron, long and broad, the bottom at the top. Japanese characters meaning Spiderboat have been deeply cut upon it. At a distance of three feet the boat is 16 inches wide, and is pierced with a hole an inch and a half long, which has been utilized to attach a flat cord or tape and toggle for convenience in hoisting. In this girdle, which is of a pale red color, now quite faded, the bok-to, cord and toggle weigh together under four and a half ounces avordupois. The two specimens now described were bought at Aukland in Japan a few months ago.

NORTH OF SANTA MONICA.
Prospecting for oil in the hills north of Santa Monica continues to be the occupation of those who are con-dablers, and they put up such a fight as is not often seen on a tennis court anywhere. Freeman yesterday showed what he can do if pressed. Such a man, and he did, and left, nearly always in, and only returned through brilliant work on the part of his opponents, featured the big fellow's game and sent a big crowd into ecstasy. Leap, leap and downward smash into safe territory such brought the crowd to life, and the first set went to the Freeman side. Likewise the second. Finally the sets were few, however; the Variel-Beil team changed their tactics and began lobbing back Freeman's fast play with splendid success. Time after time Bell lifted the ball high, and Variel, instead of forcing him or Overton to make a quick run or jump, and the hard work to follow. Finally the Bell-Variel team won up to the sets and then the battle royal began. That last set was fought as if its predecessors were child's play; there was enough hard tennis in it for an ordinary tournament. Freeman and Overton finally won, and it was agreed that the score for the match was: Freeman and Overton, 6-4, 2-6, 6-2, 6-4.

The mixed doubles put up a good show in the games between Freeman and Variel, Seymour and Flora Sutton and Variel. In fact, little Variel and his nose poked into every kind of tennis trouble yesterday; whenever there was a hot scrap on either court, Variel was in it, and he had the best class tennis throughout. Violet and Mrs. Seymour into camp after thirty minutes of play, but knew they had had a hard match when through. The first set was 6-4, the second, 6-1; the last, 6-4. Freeman played good individual tennis throughout, and so did Mrs. Seymour, but they lost a decisive number of points dent that valuable deposits are to be found in the coast country. A prominent geologist who recently returned from that section reports that while the showing would indicate the presence of oil, all probability operators would be forced to drill at 1,000 feet before the finds would be found.

A local company that a few months ago announced its intention of prospecting in the district has evidently weakened on the proposition and has withdrawn the field.

A large part of the Associated stock is even now controlled by the railroad syndicate.

On the unclaimed properties, on the other hand, all life is bustle. It is claimed that there is something doing in inner circles of the great combine. It is now believed by many well-informed persons that the Southern Pacific was interested in the suit against the Associated by the Shamrock Oil Company, and if Harriman takes over the properties of the combine, it will be because this has been settled, and Mr. Harriman is convinced that the Associated can give him title to all the property held by it on the lease, whether the same was ratified by all, or only two-thirds of the stock of the company absorbed. There has been some difference of opinion as to the validity of the lease, and it is intimated that Harriman investigated the Shamrock suit to test the question, which is one of the greatest importance, and affects many of the combine's holdings.

The cancellation of the orders for drilling on the Southern Pacific property is held to indicate that the company feels assured of a sufficient supply of oil from the Associated, and that the drilling company, five additional wells on its properties, that Harriman has virtually secured control of the Associated in generally accepted as a fact. When asked if the officials of the Associated would not be afraid to let others take the lead, Mr. Harriman said he was not, and that he had no fear of being beaten.

There are matters transpiring in the inner circles of the combine, which are not fully known, even to many of those deeply interested.

Through poor team work, both going after the same ball and occasionally driving an easy one wild thereby. The mixed doubles have been held up two days, but now are well in hand. The

[NEWS REPORTS FROM TIMES CORRESPONDENTS.]

CHOLAS' FATAL BRAWL DESCRIBED IN COURT.

TRIAL FOR MANSLAUGHTER ON AT SAN BERNARDINO.

Chaves, Who Blew Another Chaves, Recovers from His Wound to Be Threatened With Penitentiary—Boys Again Arrested for Theft.

SAN BERNARDINO, July 16.—Diciencia Chaves was placed on trial today in Judge Bledsoe's court on a charge of manslaughter. The alleged crime was committed May 31 at the Mexican settlement below Colton. The defendant, a gang of Mexicans, were involved in a number of incidents in a summer brew, as the result of too much wine. It remains to be proved who owned the revolver, but Diciencia secured possession of it in a struggle with Beccania Chaves. The latter was shot in the stomach, and died within a few minutes after the shooting. A cousin of the fallen man then took a shot at Diciencia, who was running away, the bullet striking him in the leg. He was afterwards captured, and came near losing the leg as a result of the wound, but finally recovered.

THREE BAD BOYS.

Walter Fisher, William Daley, and Stephen Brown are three bad boys who have been in the hands of the officers several times, and who were arrested last year for stealing a lot of bricks from the rear of Adolf Johnson's feed store. They sold the bricks to Wong Hing, the magnate of Chinatown, for $1, and divided the spoils. The boys were taken before the District Attorney, who gave them a severe lecture. On account of their youth—they are not over 12—they were released from custody, pending a hearing today.

LITTLE LINERS.

Mrs. Lizzie Crowder was yesterday granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Oliver Crowder in Judge Geter's court. The Crowders are negroes, who live in Redlands. The story told by Mrs. Crowder on the witness stand was to the effect that Crowder was a dangerous negro when his dander is up.

Jerome Pierson and C. J. Pierson, brothers, engaged in a fight yesterday afternoon, and were arrested. Both men have been working at the Butte lumbers up on the mountain. The squeable was over money matters.

A. M. Hamm, a local grocer who believes in running his own business in his own way, has succeeded in "businessing" his son, and is now bent on smashing the combination formed for the purpose of keeping up prices. The attempt to crush an independent dealer failed absolutely.

The Masonic Hall Building Association has signed the plans of T. E. Morris, of Los Angeles, for a new Masonic Temple, to be erected on the west side of E street, south of Fourth. The building will be two stories in height, and will be modern in construction.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Priscilla La Niece and John F. Lincoln, which will be solemnized July 23, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James La Niece. John Butterfield, of San Bernardino, was convicted yesterday of grand larceny, with a recommendation for leniency, in Judge Bledsoe's court. Butterfield attempted to rob Charles F. Harper, a G. A. R. veteran, in the rear of the Hall of Records a couple of weeks ago.

REDLANDS.

YEAR'S LIBRARY EXPANSION.

REDLANDS, July 16.—The board of trustees of the A. K. Smylie Public Library yesterday made its annual report to the City Board of Trustees, to whom were appended the librarian's and treasurer's reports. During the year $178,30 was expended for new books.

The circulation department showed the greatest growth of the several departments, the number having been cut out for home use being 40,797, as against 35,801 for last year, making a gain of 4,996. There were added $10 to the membership list during the year, leaving a total of 1,000 members. The juvenile department was the principal new feature of the year, a special place being reserved for the children's use. A music department was also added, which proved very popular.

RIPPLESFIELD.

As Redlands capital has assisted very materially in the building up of San Bernardino, there is now to be a turn of the tables. Judge F. W. Gregg of the county seat has let the contract for a two-story business building on Citrus avenue, opposite the Triangle. A few of this city have been awarded the contract, the price being $50,000.

The San Bernardino Valley Tradition Company has decided to construct the new building on the north side of West Olive avenue, with all possible speed. As soon as men and materials can be secured, the work will begin and will be pushed to its completion. The new building will be known as the Teresian Loop, and will serve a large residence section.

Work was renewed at the Kingsbury marmalade factory today. A new product will be lemon juice, bottled in its pure state.

"If you want a thing well done, do it yourself," is an old-time motto, but the lawns at "The Firm" when it comes to advertising, will baffle your wants to Red 1025, and our Redlands agency will take your ad. and send it to the main office.

RIVERSIDE.

WILL COMBINE TO SPRAY.

RIVERSIDE, July 16.—A sub-committee consisting of E. A. Meacham, J. R. Cudell, James Mills, E. L. Koethen, and Commissioners Cudell, is engaged in making a careful canvass of the valley orchards to determine the cost of spraying for black scale under the present system, and the damage, if any, resulting from the spraying. The plan that will probably be adopted for eradicating the scale will be to form local associations of growers, with about 100 acres in each association to purchase a spray, and to share the expense of several hundred dollars, and then each association do its own spraying.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS.

The work of street-paving will be begun soon on an extensive scale. It is the intention of the City Trustees to pave with asphalt Main street from Fifth to Eleventh; seventh street, from Market to Orange, and Eighth street, from Main to the Santa Fe station. The asphalt will be laid on a solid concrete base, instead of adobe soil, as was done when the first asphalt was laid here.
